

THE OLD GANG THAT HAS FAILED

Election
special

The election this June will do very little to change British politics. Of the main parties offering themselves to the voters, Tory, Labour and Liberal/SDP Alliance, none have policies which differ very much from the policies of British governments over the past 38 years since World War II.

The truth is that Britain for the whole of this period has been in DECLINE. And the parties and leaders now installed at Westminster are in the main part the parties and leaders who have presided over that decline. They are the Old Gang who have FAILED Britain.

The Liberals are no exceptions to this rule. Although they have not governed in the post-war period, Liberal IDEAS have had full fling in the governing parties; there is not a single Liberal POLICY (where the Liberals have any policies at all) that has not been tried and found to have failed.

And as for the recently emergent Social Democrats, they are only the old Labour Party under a new label — the Labour Party that has governed disastrously time and time again in the last four decades. ALL the main SDP leaders have been flops in government under the Labour flag. Why should they be any different in the future?

So the fact is that the parties of Westminster offer the British people NO ALTERNATIVE to the years of muddle, betrayal and failure that lie behind us. A vote for any of them is a wasted vote. DO NOT waste your vote this time.

VOTE FOR BRITAIN: VOTE BNP

What we want for Britain

The things that we want for Britain are things which the parties at Westminster either cannot or will not deliver. Think about these things and ask yourself: are they not the things that you have wanted and voted for for years but which have not been achieved?

Full employment

We want to get Britain back to work, just as the established parties say they want to do but cannot do. There is only one way to ensure full employment in Britain and that is to put up the barriers against those imported goods that we have the capacity to make ourselves and employ Britain's workers in making them. This will not, as the Tories maintain, be protecting inefficiency by shutting out competition; we can generate quite enough competition for the British market among British manufacturers themselves. Japan is the most highly competitive of the major manufacturing nations of the world, yet the Japanese have for years protected their home market against manufactured imports.

OUT of the Common Market

We want to get Britain out of the European Common Market, and indeed we must do if British industry is to be protected in the way we have described. The Common Market has been a disaster for this country, as it has caused us to lose much more trade in Britain than we have gained in Europe. We do not need the Common Market — we have our own manufacturing skills, our own coal and our own oil. The food and minerals that we need to import we can obtain from our old friends in the White Commonwealth.

Industrial harmony

We are determined to put an end to industrial unrest in Britain, which has been caused on one side by the disastrous economic policies of Tory and Labour governments, which have led to high unemployment, and on the other side by extremists in the trade unions. We are pledged totally to overhaul Britain's machinery of industrial relations so that management and labour represent one interest and work as one body — for Britain.

Law and order

We want Britain to be a peaceful and law-abiding nation, and we are determined to introduce whatever measures of law enforcement are necessary to bring this about. 'Liberal' and 'permissive' attitudes on law and order have been a disaster for this country because they have loaded all the dice in favour of the criminal and against his victims. We are pledged to abandon these attitudes and get really tough with the criminal community, including muggers, rapists, child molesters and murderers like those of the IRA. Penalties for these offenders must be far more severe than at present, and these must include the restoration of the death penalty — something the people want back but the politicians refuse to support.

An end to immigration

We do not believe that the ideal of a peaceful and law-abiding Britain can be reconciled with the established parties' policy of a multi-racial Britain. We are therefore pledged to put a complete end to Coloured immigration and to work for the gradual resettlement overseas of Britain's Coloured community. This is a policy that is essential to the interests of Black and White alike, as quite clearly the multi-racial experiment has led to massive communal strife and in every way is a total disaster.

These are just a few of the policies on which we shall be fighting this election. You can find out more about our party's aims at the bottom of the back page or by writing to us at the address given there.

Do not miss this opportunity to strike a blow for the things you really believe in. Give us your support at the coming election and help build the foundations of a better British future!

MORE ABOUT BLACK CRIME

FOLLOWING ON from last month's Home Office figures which showed that last year Blacks were responsible for more than twice as many muggings as Whites in the London area (figures which we spotlighted on the front page of this paper), some more figures have now been released which emphasise even further the sheer horror of what is going on in London — and probably in other cities with large Coloured populations.

Burglary figures for London show that Non-Whites are responsible for 3,175 of those burglaries for which the culprits have been caught and prosecuted during 1982, which is 24 per-cent, while Whites have been responsible for 9,627.

In prosecutions for assault, 2,500 (28 per-cent) of those prosecuted have been non-White and 6,345 White.

Meanwhile figures for criminal damage prosecutions show that 1,704 (17 per-cent) have involved non-Whites and 8,122 Whites.

Official figures for the non-White population of London give that population as being 13 per-cent of the total. Yet in all these crimes non-White involvement is well over that percentage and in the case of burglary and assault it is around double.

The champions of the multi-racial society have been crowing with satisfaction at the fact that, unlike with muggings, the overall total of White criminals committing these offences is greater than the total of Blacks. They have conveniently ignored the percentage figures which when related to the percentage of Blacks in the population show a much higher propensity to those crimes on the part of Blacks.

Typical of this was a headline in the Daily Telegraph, which says 'Burglars are mainly White'. Very reassuring to the multi-racialists — until one reads the small print which shows that nearly twice as many Blacks per thousand of the population commit burglary as do Whites!

CHANGE OF NAME

From this issue onwards, this paper ceases to be published under the name of New Frontier and will appear under the new name of British Nationalist.

This change of name has been made after very careful consideration and in response to a growing clamour on the part of our supporters that the name of the paper should more closely reflect our present political associations.

The name of New Frontier was adopted at the time the paper was first launched at the beginning of 1981. The party that the paper then supported was the New National Front, and the name chosen made the paper easily identifiable with that party.

In April of last year the NNF merged forces with a number of other similarly minded political groups to form the British National Party. With the emergence of this new party, the name New Frontier became something of an anachronism.

We have now taken the step of adopting a new name and we hope that all those who have worked hard to make a success of New Frontier will dedicate themselves to making an even greater success of British Nationalist.

Being queer scuppered me, admits Tatchell

NOW PETER TATCHELL, Labour's Bermondsey candidate, has admitted it himself. He is a homosexual, and it was this fact, much more than his extreme left-wing politics, which resulted in his disastrous showing in the Bermondsey by-election in February.

With Tatchell as the candidate, Labour's vote at Bermondsey fell by the staggering figure of 38 per-cent from the General Election in 1979, when Bob Mellish was the candidate in that constituency. Although in by-elections generally since that time there had been a fall from the 1979 Labour vote, this fall had never been more than 15 per-cent and had averaged out at around 8-9 per-cent. At nearby Peckham, a constituency very similar to Bermondsey in the composition of the electorate, there was a by-election a few months ago in which the Labour candidate, Harriet Harman, was known to be every bit as far to the left of the party as Tatchell. On this occasion, however, Labour's vote only fell by 10 per-cent.

In the run-up to the Bermondsey by-election it was never actually officially stated in public that Tatchell was 'queer'. However, much publicity was given to his support of 'gay liberation' and 'gay rights', and this, combined with his physical appearance, left the electors in little doubt as to his sexual disposition. As if to rub the fact in, his rival 'Real Labour' candidate, John O'Grady, travelled around the constituency on the back of a truck singing a little ditty about Tatchell which included the words "he wears his trousers back to front." Local graffiti artists — possibly supporters of O'Grady, though this is not proven — daubed huge slogans on walls in the area, one of which was spotlighted in a TV report, which described Tatchell as a 'Communist poof'.

Recently Tatchell made a public announcement that he was going to stand down as Bermondsey Labour candidate in the General Election.

HOW THE PRESS DISTORTS THE FACTS

THE PRESS COUNCIL recently rejected a GLC complaint that a cartoon by JAK of The Standard, which depicted the bestial inhumanity of Irish terrorists, was offensive to the Irish people as a whole. The Council also ruled that by withdrawing advertising from The Standard unless an apology appeared in the paper, the GLC had blatantly and improperly tried to use the power of its purse to influence the contents of The Standard and to coerce its editor.

On the same day as these judgments were announced, a JAK cartoon was published in The Standard which was obviously intended to relate to the recent bank robbery in Bristol and the 90-mile chase down the M4 motorway which followed. It showed two Whites robbing a bank, one of whom is firing off a shotgun. As they run from the bank, the driver of a milk van calls out to them: "Did you want the M4 again?"

It is now a well known fact that the Bristol robbery and the shooting of a policeman just afterwards, followed by the M4 chase, was carried out by two Blacks. We Livingstone, leader of the GLC, asking him if he proposes to complain to the Press Council at the way White people have been defamed by JAK's cartoon.

The Editor,
The Standard

Sir, Congratulations to The Standard for courageously publishing JAK's excellent cartoon depicting the depravity of Irish terrorists, and also for refusing to be intimidated by the GLC's unjustified attempts at blackmail.

Like many other people, I am delighted that you have been so completely vindicated by the Press Council; but having said that, I must now bring you down to earth with a bump!

On the very day that your victory over Ken Livingstone and the other GLC commissars was announced, you published a JAK cartoon about the recent Lloyds Bank robbery in Bristol during which a policeman was shot and which culminated with an armed chase along the M4.

Sir, you know, JAK knows, I know — everyone knows — that the robbers were Black. But JAK portrayed them as White! This distortion of the truth is an insult to the law-abiding White people whose country this still happens to be.

I note, too, that in your reports about this crime you did not once mention the colour of the cowardly thugs who carried it out. It therefore seems that you, like some other newspapers, subscribe to the view that the racial characteristics of violent criminals should not be mentioned unless they happen to have white skins.

By trying to conceal the colour of criminals, or by changing their colour as JAK has done in his cartoon, you do your readers a grave disservice.

Yours faithfully,
Ronald Rickcord.

At the time of going to press, The Standard has not published Mr. Rickcord's letter and has failed to publish an apology for unjustly maligning the White people of Britain. Mr. Rickcord has therefore decided to lodge a complaint to the Press Council. Details will be published in our next issue.

"Did you want the M4 again?"

DISTORTION OF THE FACTS

wonder whether the GLC will now complain to the Press Council about the grossly offensive way in which the cartoon depicts Whites. We think that this is most unlikely to happen, but our Editor, Ronald Rickcord, stung by The Standard's distortion of the truth, has sent the following letter to its Editor. He has also sent a letter to Mr. Ken

TWO BLACK youths have been jailed for attacking PC Ian Bennett during a riot by blacks in Bristol last year. Derek Davy and Raymond Brooks, both 18, were jailed for six years and three years respectively. They hit the policeman in the face with a brick and then hit him repeatedly on the head with a mallet. He received a fractured skull, an eye injury, brain damage, and spinal fluid leakage through his nose. PC Bennett made a name for himself following the 1980 Bristol riots by assuming the role of St. Pauls top 'community policeman' and 'immigrants' friend. Perhaps he is wiser now.

DELEGATES at the Young Socialists' Conference in Bridlington have welcomed attacks on British servicemen in Ulster. Mr. Richard Emmett of Accrington said: "Every bullet in a British soldier is another nail in the coffin of British Imperialism" and Mr. Neil James called for "the death of British troops."

LEICESTER City Council has banned the British National Party from using the council-owned St. Mathew's Neighbourhood Centre during the next General Election. The BNP, which will field three candidates in the next election, is taking legal action to have the decision reversed.

GEORGINA WILSON, niece of Winston Churchill MP, accepted a lift from a black man who then drove her to a house in Peckham. There she was threatened at knifepoint to take up prostitution. Miss Wilson persuaded the Black to take her home. Police are now investigating a racket to procure women for prostitution that is operating in the Peckham area.

LESBIAN LINE, a telephone call-in service for lonely lesbians, is to receive an £11,585 grant from the GLC.

CHIEF RABBI Sir Immanuel Jakobovits has expressed his fear of Tatchell (seen here with Chinese actor David Yip). Bermondsey electors gave him a big No!

In an article printed in The Guardian he stated that 'bigotry' had made his position in politics impossible. While the mass media, he said, objected to him principally because of his political views, they had played mainly on his homosexuality and his support for 'Gay Rights' in order to discredit him in the eyes of the voters.

Tatchell went on to say that many more people involved in the Bermondsey election, and many others in the House of Commons, were also homosexuals, but the mass media had played down on this factor because their politics were more acceptable to the Establishment.

DESTROYED

Tatchell has of course admitted what we have always known — that anyone in political life identified as 'queer' can be completely destroyed in the process. Queers can only survive in politics if their sexual orientation is not widely known to renewed anti-Semitism fuelled by "rampant anti-Zionism." He warned Jews not to respond with force.

CHICAGO'S election of a new mayor gave its citizens the opportunity to vote for either a Negro Democrat with a jail record or a Jewish Republican with a history of mental instability. In the event the Negro won. It has now been suggested that the Democrats may field a black candidate in the next presidential election.

TWO unnamed coloured brothers, one of them a First Division footballer, have been remanded on £1,000 bail by Highbury Corner magistrates charged with raping a 20-year-old white girl.

BRITISH JAILS now make special catering arrangements to enable ethnic minorities to observe their dietary rituals. At present there are more than 1,000 Moslems in jail who are allowed to observe the fasting requirements of Ramadan.

THINGS YOU CAN DO TO HELP BRITISH NATIONALISM

THE EDITOR advises readers on ways to further the cause

Ronald Rickcord, Editor of BRITISH NATIONALIST

DEAR READER,

Nationalists frequently tell me that they are furious about the things that today are happening to our country, but feel powerless to do anything about it. Often these people are sincere Nationalists and patriots, but for one reason or another they are unable to become activists for the cause. Some are too old or unfit, some cannot spare the time, while others have family or business commitments that prevent them going on marches, selling papers, distributing leaflets or standing as election candidates.

I usually suggest to such people that if they feel strongly about a particular subject they should write stating their views to their MPs, to local councillors, to local and national papers, to the radio and TV companies, to their trade union leaders, and to influential national organisations and bodies, etc. I tell them that it is only by making our views known that we are ever going to get anywhere.

The response that this suggestion evokes is almost always the same: "It's all right for you to say that. You have a way with words, but I couldn't put two words together to save my life." Perhaps. Many people do find it difficult to write letters, while others are unable to write letters without resorting to the use of bad language or personal abuse — which does our cause no good at all.

SENDING CUTTINGS

There is, however, one way that everyone can help to get our views across to those who are in positions of power and influence. That is by cutting out of this paper those articles dealing with subjects you feel strongly about and sending them to the people or organisations that I mentioned earlier. Action of this sort takes very little effort and costs only the postage, but it gains benefits for our cause out of all proportion to the effort and cost involved.

Sending out cuttings in this way will let the recipients know how WE — the unheard majority — feel about vital issues affecting the future of our people and our country. You will probably agree with me when I say that during the two and a half years that our paper has been in existence we have published many excellent articles in which we have not pulled our punches. Where politicians and others have deserved censure, we have not failed to take them to task in no uncertain manner. OUR PAPER IS PROBABLY THE ONLY SERIOUS NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN BRITAIN WHICH PRINTS THE TRUTH WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOUR.

In addition to getting our views known, sending out cuttings in the way I have proposed will also help to get our paper better known than it is at present. Unfortunately, in this supposedly democratic society of ours, few newsagents will stock this paper on their shelves; therefore we have no option but to use other methods to bring the paper to the attention of the public. For this reason always enclose with your cuttings a note informing the recipient of the paper's name and address. Unless you have reasons to remain anonymous, also include your own name and address, particularly if you want a reply. (You will normally get a reply from your own MP).

LEAVE YOUR COPY AROUND

And there is another thing you can do to help the cause. Never throw away your copy of our paper when you have finished reading it. Leave it in the train, on the bus, in the doctor's waiting room, in your library, on your newsagent's shelves, or give it to a friend — making sure that you tell HIM to pass it on to someone else when HE'S finished with it! Better still, buy a few extra copies and distribute them in the ways I've mentioned above.

What I've suggested in this letter is not much to ask of anyone who claims to be a Nationalist. It is an ideal way that Britons who have little time or opportunity to become activists can help, in a small way, to fight for the cause of British Nationalism. To those who would find some excuse to avoid doing something even so simple and requiring so little effort as I have proposed in this letter, I can only remind them of the great sacrifices made for our country by our forebears in the past. Thousands of them made the supreme sacrifice. Many thousands more suffered appalling injuries and endured great hardships. And even today many dedicated men and women are giving their time, effort and hard-earned funds in the cause of a Greater Britain, a Britain for the British. Perhaps we can't all aspire to their heroic efforts, but all of us should try to give them what little help we can.

Our paper provides you with both the words and the opportunity to make your presence felt by the Establishment and to become an activist at very little cost to yourself. By doing just that, you will be helping us; and by helping us you will be doing something positive to help our country. That is something we should all want to do.

Yours sincerely for Race and Nation,
RONALD RICKCORD.

the public at large. Loyal servants of the political Establishment can hope for some protection from exposure in this regard — as long as they 'toe the line'. Radicals, however, whether they be of the left or the right, can count on no such protection. They are certain to get exposed immediately that there is a possibility that they will get into any position of power.

Nationalists should take careful note of the Tatchell disaster. It could happen to any of us whom the media are able to expose as descendants of Sodom.

QUOTE

"The system of government in Britain today deserves one description only: it is a plutocratic oligarchy, materialist in philosophy, Jewish in purpose, and tyrannous in effect."

— William Joyce in
Twilight Over England

TALKING POINTS by FRONTIERSMAN

SDP CHOOSE AD MEN

Readers will remember that before the last general election the Tories put the task of conning the public to vote for them into the hands of Saatchi & Saatchi, an advertising agency run by two Jewish brothers. Now I hear that the SDP is hoping to emulate the Tories by using the services of an advertising agency sporting the somewhat ominous name of Gold Greenlees Trotter! I don't know the racial (or is it religious?) complexion of this agency, but — surprise! surprise! — the legal firm entrusted with the task of drawing up the contract with the SDP is none other than Lewis Silkin and Partners, a Jewish concern founded by the father of Labour MPs John and Sam Silkin! Makes you think, doesn't it?

PROPAGANDA PARADE

Being in London over the Easter holiday, I took the opportunity of attending the Easter Parade in Battersea Park, which this year was used by the GLC as a means of publicising its much-heralded "Peace Year 1983". I had mixed feelings about this propaganda parade. I was pleased that the CND float was greeted with a stony silence by the crowd, but two things depressed me: firstly, the large number of racial aliens among the spectators and participants; and secondly, the sickening spectacle of the self-proclaimed hermaphrodites marching under the banner of "Gay Pride" and proudly flaunting their perversity for all to see. Even more sickening was the sight of children on the queers' float. Significantly, it brought up the rear of the Parade.

DOWN WITH GLENEAGLES!

It was heart-warming to see newspaper photographs of those two legendary cricketers, Denis Compton and Bill Edrich, back at Lord's spearheading a campaign to persuade MCC members to vote for a resumption of normal cricketing ties with South Africa. Who will ever forget that memorable summer of 1947 when Middlesex's "Terrible Twins" scored more than 7,000 runs between them? What thrills they gave us school-boys! How it annoys me to learn that one of my schoolfellows of those days, MCC secretary Jack Bailey, is one of those who are opposed to South Africa being restored to her rightful place in the world of cricket. That the South Africans have for so long been excluded from international cricket at the behest of little twerps like Peter Hain is quite disgraceful. As Mr. Compton so succinctly put it: "I cannot bear the hypocrisy and double standards of the West Indies, Pakistan and India whose players compete alongside South Africans in our county game throughout each summer." To which I will add, somewhat less ceremoniously: To hell with the Gleneagles Agreement!

FRIENDS OF SOUTH AFRICA
Bill Edrich and Denis Compton

A STARK CONTRAST

The Government's grovelling attitude towards Jewry seems to be boundless. A couple of months ago we drew attention to the visit made by a delegation of Tories to Israel, where they were received by a war criminal responsible for the torture and murder of British troops, a certain Menachen Begin. The visit was followed by another made by Dr. Rhodes Boyson, Minister of State for Education, and shortly after, Tory party chairman, Cecil Parkinson, gave a talk to members of the Borehamwood and Elstree Synagogue during which he gave an undertaking that the Government wouldn't recognise the PLO unless that organisation accepted Israel's right to exist.

An even worse example of the Government's toadying attitude towards the Self-Chosen People was the announcement that a "Holocaust" memorial garden is to be created in Hyde Park at the behest of the Board of Deputies of British Jews. This is in stark contrast to the 2ft. square plaque which is to mark the spot where four soldiers of the Blues and Royals were murdered by cowardly IRA thugs in the Park last July, and the single weeping willow which is to be planted in Regent's Park to commemorate the six bandmen of the Royal Greenjackets who were similarly killed by the IRA butchers later on the same day. It seems that the recent deaths of British soldiers in our Capital City are of less importance to our politicians than the deaths of Jews in Europe 40 years ago. The Government evidently knows on which side its bread is buttered!

BLACKS NOW PICK ON 'TOP' PEOPLE

CHRISTINE YIANNI discusses a new trend

DURING recent weeks there were three well-publicised reports of crimes committed by Blacks against upper-class Whites. These crimes may be the beginning of a new trend which could have far-reaching consequences on the attitudes of the Establishment towards Coloured people in Britain.

First, a Black man and woman stole the Duchess of Kent's handbag while she was shopping in a Knightsbridge store. Then a gang of Black youths broke into the Eaton Square flat belonging to Princess Diana's grandmother, Lady Fermoy, and robbed her of several thousand pounds worth of jewellery. A few days later Georgina Wilson, the 22-year-old niece of Tory MP Winston Churchill, was abducted by a knife-wielding Black pimp who, with the aid of two White women, tried to force her into prostitution. Luckily, she managed to get away from them.

It is difficult to have much sympathy for these wealthy upper-class victims who are increasingly becoming the target of Black criminals. For years they have ignored the complaints of the less fortunate Whites who live in our inner cities, where they have been subjected to a reign of terror imposed on them by violent black thugs.

But however lamentable it is that any White person, regardless of class, should become prey to the violence of Blacks, the fact that black criminals are turning their attentions to the well-to-do is probably the best thing that could happen from the ordinary White city-dweller's point of view because it brings home to those fortunate enough not to live in areas having large "ethnic minorities" the misery and danger of living in such places.

Perhaps when a few more upper-crust personages become the unwilling victims of black violence they will more readily support the hapless inner-city Whites who have for so long been demanding the repatriation of the immigrant and immigrant-descended population. Repatriation is a necessary prelude if we are ever to re-establish law and order in this country.

Food for thought

"The figures for violent attacks and theft by Blacks in London can only be described as horrific."

YOUR LETTERS

Sir.—I'm horrified and disgusted that the Law Lords have overturned Lord Denning's ruling that the Headmaster of a Christian school who refused to allow a Sikh boy to wear a turban in school was not guilty of racial discrimination. The absurdity of the new ruling is demonstrated by the remark made by one of the Law Lords to the effect that Sikhs are "almost a race." If they are "almost" a race, then they are not a race; and as such they are not entitled to special protection under the terms of the infamous 1976 Race Relations Act.

But what to my mind is far more disturbing is that special legal privileges are being granted to aliens residing here. Already, unlike anyone else, Sikhs are allowed to carry daggers for religious purposes, and they are allowed to ride motor cycles without having to wear crash helmets. What further privileges are going to be conferred on these aliens who are fast invading our country? And how much longer are we Britons going to stand for it?

One thing this ruling has done for me: it's convinced me that the BNP is the only Party that I — a lifelong Labour Party member — can possibly support.

J. LEACH,
Bradford, Yorks.

Sir.—The Home Office took very little time in deciding to throw out of Britain the 29-year-old Rumanian refugee, Stancu Papusoiu. No doubt a very different decision would have been taken if Papusoiu had been a Black or a Jew. It was his misfortune that he had the wrong coloured skin and the wrong shaped nose, otherwise he would have been granted British citizenship.

J. STOKES,

Sir.—As a member of the British National Party I'm pleased to read in your paper that we shall soon have our own Book Service. It's great news to know that soon we'll be able to buy our books from our own Party.

PAUL FERN,
Burton-upon-Trent.

Sir.—The French Revolution and the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia and Hungary were not due to any superior capacity or courage on the part of the revolutionaries, but to the cowardice, weakness, incapacity and lack of patriotism of those countries' rulers. If a revolution occurs here it, too, will be caused not by any moral or intellectual superiority of the revolutionaries, but by the poltroonery, weakness, incapacity and unpatriotism of our rulers.

ELECTION NOW CALLED—TIME TO RALLY ROUND AND PASS THE AMMUNITION!

New recordings now available

BNP Recordings are pleased to announce two new cassettes which will be available from early in the new year. These are:—

RALLY '82

This recording features speeches made at the British National Party rally in London on October 16th 1982, the theme of which was 'Unite and fight for Britain's future!'. On side 1 of the cassette are recordings of the speeches by Charles Parker and Ray Hill; on side 2 is the closing speech by John Tyndall.

TYNDALL SPEAKS (II)

This cassette features the 4th and 5th of a series of specially recorded talks by John Tyndall, made in a studio employing Hi-Fi equipment. The talks are:—

Side 1: The case for nationalism. In this talk the BNP leader demolishes the most frequently used arguments employed in opposition to the nationalist idea and urges that that idea is now essential to Britain's survival.

Side 2: Tragedy of the 20th Century. In this recording Tyndall speaks of World War II and its ruinous consequences for Britain and the West.

Both these talks provide ideal instructional material for educating young people in nationalism.

We also remind everyone of two other recordings still available which have proved very popular. These are:—

VOICES OF NATIONALISM

Side 1 of this cassette features recordings of parts of the speeches made at the Nationalist Unity rally in London on September 5th 1981. Hear John Tyndall, Ray Hill, Kenneth McKilliam, Len Bearsford Walker and others.

Side 2 consists of the third of the series of specially recorded talks by John Tyndall entitled The coming British revolution. In this talk Tyndall exposes the fraud of the political system masquerading as 'democracy' and outlines vital changes needed to raise the level of British political leadership.

TYNDALL SPEAKS (I)

The first of two recorded talks of a series by the BNP leader. These are:—

Side 1: Our Anglo-Saxon heritage. This talk is about the great world-wide heritage of the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic peoples and calls for their unity.

Side 2: Britain's economic crisis. Tyndall talks about the breakdown of the British economy over a long period and calls for a new economic policy based on economic nationalism.

IT'S NOW OFFICIAL! The General Election has been called for June 9th, a date much earlier than we had originally expected.

This means that all supporters of the British National Party must make an extra special effort to be prepared to achieve the party's aim of fighting 50 seats!

That aim was originally decided upon on the basis of an election coming later. Even so, it is still possible to put up 50 candidates next month if everyone makes a supreme effort. Remember, this will probably be the last chance we have to obtain broadcasting time by payment of election deposits of £150. The next time it is likely that we will have to pay £1,000 or more to fight each seat!

The party already has raised a considerable part of the money it needs to fight 50 seats with deposits of £150 per seat. But it needs to raise a good deal more. Branches are doing their best to raise the cash necessary but in case some are unable to reach their targets in time we need a cash reserve at Headquarters out of which we can meet the difference.

WE THEREFORE APPEAL TO ALL SUPPORTERS NOW TO DIG INTO THEIR POCKETS AND HELP US BUILD UP OUR ELECTION FUND. WE NOW HAVE LESS THAN A MONTH TO RAISE THIS MONEY. IT IS TIME TO MAKE A SPECIAL EFFORT, EVEN IF THIS MEANS SOME PERSONAL SACRIFICES!

But the vital thing is to raise the £7,500 we need to fight in June. We need your money NOW. Please make your cheques or POs out to British National Party Election Fund, and send them to Box 115, Hove, E. Sussex BN3 3SB.

Impressive BNP march through Leeds

ABOUT 250 British National Party supporters marched through the city centre of Leeds on Saturday, April 23rd, to celebrate St. George's Day. The theme of the march was opposition to the policies of successive governments which have ruined the British textile industry by the allowance of mass imports. Leeds is close to the centre of the great textile region which covers parts of Yorkshire and Lancashire and provided an appropriate location for the march.

TURN OUT

The attendance on the march was of a roughly similar size to that of the real (as distinct from the claimed) attendance on a National Front march in Leeds earlier in the year at which a contingent from the Ulster Defence Association helped to swell the numbers. The BNP attendance would have been considerably greater had there been a better turn-out from London members, whose moderate showing somewhat let the Capital down. The Northern turn-out, on the other hand, was most encouraging and indicates the big progress the party is now making in the North of England.

LOCAL SUPPORT

The march column proceeded through the city with scarcely any opposition and to the accompaniment of considerable support from shoppers. The column was representative of all ages and social groups and made an excellent impression.

The march terminated in a rally at Quarry Hill, which was addressed by John Wood, Ray Hill and John Tyndall. A collection speech by David Bruce raised just under £100.

GOOD VOTE IN KENT

CONGRATULATIONS to Bob Lockwood, BNP candidate in the Bidenden ward of Ashford, Kent, who in a recent council election in that ward obtained an excellent 83 votes, which represented 14.2 per cent of the poll and placed him only 8 votes behind the Labour candidate.

Mr. Lockwood's result was obtained with the help of only a small team of campaign workers putting out locally produced leaflets. The result will, we hope, serve as a good omen for the coming General Election, in which the BNP will be fighting the Ashford constituency.

Please get it right!

BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY Head Office have asked us to remind all readers once again that cheques for the BNP should not include money intended for our paper, or vice versa.

Our magazine, though it believes in racial differences, opposes race-hatred. All those who oppose multi-racialism should attack the politicians who promote it, not the immigrants, who are merely its victims.
